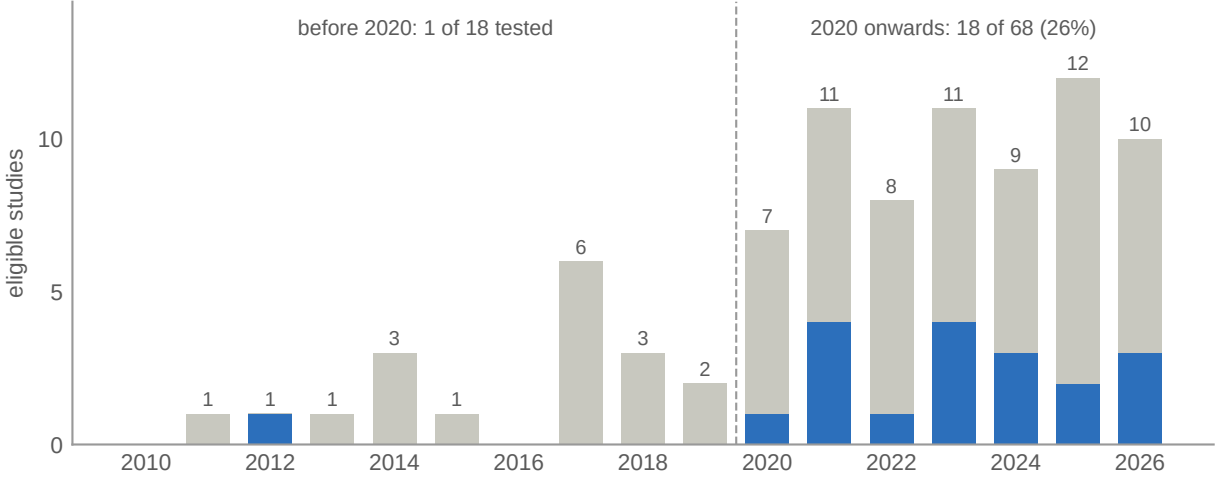
Tests on unseen compounds became more common after 2020, but remain a minority


Eligible studies by year of publication (2026 up to November); blue: tested any compound absent from the reference